Adult learning expands across Thurrock

Thurrock Adult Community College provides adult learning to help people learn new skills to get into work, improve their career prospects, or to get more out of their everyday lives and social relationships.

New venues for adult learning

From Summer 2021, we will start to realise our long-term ambition to level up access to learning by opening new localised learning hubs, enabling learners to develop essential skills closer to where they live starting with the Aveley Hub and new, modern, classrooms in Central Grays.

Online and Blended Learning

We will also continue to offer online and blended learning options for our 2021-22 courses. These have proved very popular over the past year with those people who need more flexibility to be able to study part-time. Courses are added and run all year. Find all the latest availability, along with type of learning and venue, from our Find A Course page at www.tacc.ac.uk

Thurrock Adult Community College offers full-time study programmes tailored to the needs and personal goals of individual young people who have an Education Health and Care Plan so they can learn, grow in confidence, increase independence and develop skills for further study and employment. Integral to the classroom-based experience, learners will participate in a wide variety of enrichment activities including outdoor education.

Managing the Transition to Adulthood (MTA) for 16-24 year olds with an EHCP

This programme provides extra support for 18-24 year olds to plan and manage the next steps into higher education or employment and to develop the higher-level skills to get there. Find the course for you

Having some level of normality in an otherwise uncertain world has kept me going. At the age of 59, I have managed to achieve something and this, in no small measure, is due to Alex and TACC. Please accept my heartfelt thanks to you all.

I find the courses very informative and although the content is a lot to take in, Jill makes it very interesting in all areas so I feel I want to learn more with her guidance. It's been eye opening and a pleasure.

It was a really safe and supportive environment and the tutors were lovely. I like how they gave their own personal examples so it was more relatable.

The training has provided me with new skills and a better knowledge towards employability. I feel more confident and I would highly recommend it to anyone looking to improve their career prospects.
